

Dolly Antonio Citterio with Oliver Löw

The brainchild of an in-depth technical project, the Dolly folding chair combines elegance and the formal lightness of its general design with a sophisticated and robust structural system. Available in different colours, including vivid chromatic tones, Dolly comes in three versions: with whitened oak seat, or in the same plastic material as the structure. The two versions help Dolly adapt to any setting: the wood is mainly suited to domestic surroundings. The plastic-seated version can adapt to a wide range of surroundings from the home to the office, due to its durability and easiness to clean. In this way, the item's appeal extends as far as businesses.
