

Saarinen Tulip Chairs

Designed by Eero Saarinen.

“The undercarriage of chairs and tables in a typical interior makes an ugly, confusing, unrestful world,” as Saarinen put it “I wanted to make the chair all one thing again”.

Knoll commissioned Eero Saarinen to design the tulip collection in 1956, and it has been in continuous production by Knoll ever since.

A range of stools and side chairs with or without arms, available white or black, fully upholstered or with a simple seat pad.
