IMPORTANT: BEFORE FIRST USE

TOASTING SANDWICHES

Follow the below instructions as a general rule for all your toasted sandwich creations.

- Prepare the sandwich with medium sliced bread, lightly butter the 'outside of each slice' and place fillings between the 'unbuttered' sides.
- Do not overfill the sandwich.
- Place sandwich in cage and close the cage firmly.
- While the toaster is unplugged, position the cages within the slots.
- Plug in the toaster.
- Switch the toaster on, ensuring the cages are fully down within the Toaster Slots.
- Toast until sandwich is golden brown. Approximately 2.5 minutes.
- Once toasted ensure the Toaster is off (no illumination).
- Unplug the toaster and allow the sandwich to rest for a further minute inside the toaster to allow fillings to fully melt, before removing the cages.
- Cut sandwich and Serve.

CAUTION: FILLINGS CAN BE VERY HOT.

TOASTING SMALLER ITEMS

Crumpets, muffins, bagels, Croissants, teacakes etc, can often prove difficult to remove from a toaster. Use the cage for better toasting control.

SANDWICH MAKING TIPS

- Always lightly butter the outside of the bread (do not use margarine). You may use olive oil instead of butter.
- Butter prevents the sandwich sticking to the wire guards and increases the cooking time, this allows the fillings to heat up fully.
- Take fillings out of fridge, allow to get to room temperature.
- When toasting cheeses allow sandwich to rest for one minute in toaster after toasting is complete to allow the cheese to melt.
- Never overfill a sandwich as may tear the bread while toasting.
- Thinly sliced fillings will toast and cook more evenly.
- Low fat cheeses melt quicker.
- Vertical toasting ensures excess fillings will fall straight down into the drip tray or the base of the sandwich cage. Therefore will not make a mess in your toaster.

TOASTING TIPS

- Our patented Peek and Pop® feature allows you to check the progress of your toasted sandwiches at any time by pushing the Ejector Lever.
- Fully load all heated up slots. If a slot is heated but no bread inserted, the bread in the adjacent slot will toast unevenly.
- Different breads will toast at different rates; wholemeal bread takes longer than white bread, fresh bread will take longer than day old bread, sweet bread will toast quicker than white bread. Adjust the toasting cycle length for your particular type of bread.
- The thickest slice of bread that will fit in your toaster is 28mm. Forcing bread which is too thick or too long into the slots will be difficult to eject once toasted.
- When cutting a fresh loaf, cut the slices as evenly as possible. Uneven slices will toast unevenly.
- Keep elements free from breadcrumbs and broken pieces of bread. If left these may burn out the elements. With the toaster unplugged, use a soft brush to clean inside your toaster, do not use a knife!
- Always unplug your toaster from the wall socket after use.
